BUCCANEER RANGE REGULATOR GAZETTE

January 1897

Headline: Little Dick Holiday, What A Salesman.....

The students filed back into class on Monday morning. They were all very excited. Their weekend assignment was to sell something, then give a talk on productive salesmanship.

Sally led off: "I sold girl scout cookies and I made $30," she said proudly. "My sales approach was to appeal to the customers' civil spirit, which led to my obvious success!"

"Very good, Sally!" said the teacher.

Jenny was next, "I sold magazines," she said. "I made $45 and I explained to everyone that magazines would keep them up on current events!"

"Very good, Jenny!" said the teacher.

Eventually, it was Little Dick Holliday's turn. The teacher held her breath.....

Little Dick walked to the front of the classroom and dumped a box of cash on the teacher's desk. "$2,467" he said.

"$2,467!" cried the teacher. "What in the world were you selling?"

"Toothbrushes," said Little Dick.

"Toothbrushes!" echoed the teacher. "How could you possibly sell enough toothbrushes to make that much money?"

"Easy... I found the busiest corner in town," said Little Dick. "I set up a Chip & Dip stand and gave everybody who walked by a free sample."

They all said the same thing..... "Hey, this tastes like horse manure!"

Then, I would say: "Well, it is horse manure. Wanna buy a toothbrush?"
